An Introduction to Miyawaki:

Akira Miyawaki born 29January,1928 is a Japanese botanist and expert in plant ecology,and in the restoration of natural vegetation on degraded land

The Miyawaki method of reconstitution of indigenous forests by indigenous trees produces a rich dense and efficient protective pioneer forest in 20 to 30 years.

Miyawaki has extensively tested the method in deforested sites in dry tropical zones in Thailand alluvial tropical forests in the Brazilian Amazon forest area in concepcion (chile). In each case, he was able to quickly restore a dense canopy reminiscent of the native forest.

Miyawaki also contributes to the massive reforestation. Curiously, despite more than 1000 successful and spectacular experiences, the Western forestry or landscape world has rarely attempted to apply the “Miyawaki” method.

Competitions:

Before starting up SBSI ANO Capt K.Vasanthi conducted competitions like speech/ essay /painting/on the topics clean India, need for protection of Nature and Miyawaki –Model. Cadets participated with enthusiasm and got exposed on these topics. She also gave a motivation talk on Miyawaki.

Seeking permission from Directorate:

The place chosen to do Miyawaki belongs to Deputy Director Health Services, Coimbatore. Hence ANO met DD Dr.Banumathi and sought permission from her. The ANO was required to get permission from Head Office at Chennai also.

DAY 1

Clean up of area and Removal of Trashes:

As the main part of Swachh Bharat Summer Internship is to clean up the surrounding, it was planned to clean up and get ready for Miyawaki. For years the place was not maintained and full of trashes. It was decided to Remove Trashes and big stones in that area .Tools for cleaning was collected the previous day. cadets removed unwanted materials over the place and levelled up to keep ready for plantation.

DAY 2

Digging of Pits:

Miyawaki implements and recommends unusually dense plantation of very young seedlings, (mostly indigenous). Cadets prepared and planned the pictures of pits in a chart paper, the previous day. Tools for digging pits were carried and it was done successfully.

Selection of saplings and purchase :

Tree saplings were collected from various nurseries of the city. It was not easy to collect the required saplings of Miyawaki at one place. After saplings were collected it was transported to the place where Miyawaki was planned.
